

ORK

ished from d by evi-
ng the most entral and foothills of
lta plains
, with their
, forming
development

ince, Bung
nce have ng technol-
olds and e, semicir-
ther impleound on and clearly
Red River

a, situated
cavations
d revealed alf of the molds, this ements in es, mostly

area from p in Dong
uring field-
nineteen
ge bronze
e objects
of a burial

entral Viet s of the Sa Huynh
Giong Phet,

ometers to a group of Province,
earthworks
t dating
expansion

VIET NAM
y gradient,
herable

y A.D.)

FIG. 18

Bung Bac in Ba Ria-Vung Tau Province:
sandstone molds for casting socketed axes with a wide, semicircular cutting edge.

FIG. 19

Bronze animal figure, perhaps a dog, discovered in a grave of Doc Chua site in Binh Dong Province; about 800-400 B.C.
(H: 5.4 cm).