

a Little Golden Book®

103-59

WALT DISNEY'S

MICKEY

and the Beanstalk

LITTLE GOLDEN BOOKS
are books to grow with. They entertain, they inform, they stretch the boundaries of the imagination. Their wide variety of stories and subjects and their lively, inviting illustrations have made them popular with children and parents for more than forty years. Because children love them, LITTLE GOLDEN BOOKS are an ideal introduction to the world of reading.

Written and illustrated by some of the best children's book authors and artists, LITTLE GOLDEN BOOKS are known by their gold-foil binding—and by the pleasure they bring to children.

WALT DISNEY'S
MICKEY
and the Beanstalk

Adapted by
Dina Anastasio
Illustrated by
Sharon Ross

A GOLDEN BOOK • NEW YORK

Western Publishing Company, Inc., Racine, Wisconsin 53404

© 1985 The Walt Disney Company. All rights reserved. Printed in the U.S.A. No part of this book may be reproduced or copied in any form without written permission from the copyright owner. GOLDEN®, GOLDEN & DESIGN®, A GOLDEN BOOK®, and A LITTLE GOLDEN BOOK® are trademarks of Western Publishing Company, Inc. Library of Congress Catalog Card Number: 87-82733 ISBN: 0-307-01037-6
A B C D E F G H I J K L M

Far, far away, where the trees were greener than the prettiest green and the sky was bluer than the brightest blue, there was a place called Happy Valley. In Happy Valley the brooks babbled, the birds sang, and everyone smiled all day long.

The farmers whistled and hummed as they did their chores. Children sang as they skipped to school. In Happy Valley every day was a happy day.

High on a hill, overlooking Happy Valley, stood a magnificent castle. In the castle was the Golden Harp, who sang all day and cast a magic spell of happiness over the land.

But one day a terrible thing happened in Happy Valley. Someone stole the Golden Harp from the castle, and the magic spell of happiness was gone.

The birds stopped singing. The brooks stopped babbling. The crops stopped growing. The cows stopped giving milk. And all the people of Happy Valley grew sad and hungry.

"We must do something," said Farmer Donald.
"We'll starve if we don't," added Farmer Goofy.
"I know!" said Farmer Mickey. "I'll sell Bossy the cow and buy some food."

Mickey took the cow into town and sold her. When he returned, he said, "I have sold Bossy for three wonderful beans."

"Three beans!" cried Donald and Goofy. "We can't live on three beans!" Donald threw the beans on the floor in disgust.

"But...but...they are magic beans," said Mickey as he sadly watched the beans roll through a crack in the floor.

But Goofy and Donald didn't pay any attention to what Mickey was saying. They were too tired and hungry to listen.

During the night a moonbeam shone through the window and through the crack in the floor onto the beans.

The beans sprouted and began to grow. They grew into a stalk that lifted the house. The beanstalk climbed all the way up to the sky.

In the morning the hungry farmers woke up and looked out the window.

To their surprise Happy Valley was gone! All they could see from their window was a tremendous castle.

"Let's go!" said Mickey. "Whoever lives in that big castle must have plenty of food to share!"

Mickey, Donald, and Goofy climbed up to the top of the castle stairs and crawled under the front door. On an enormous table they saw huge platters of food. Mammoth pitchers of fresh cold milk waited for them. The farmers quickly climbed up a table leg and ate, drank, and laughed merrily.

As they were finishing their meal a tiny voice called out to them.

"Who's that?" asked Mickey.

"It came from in there," said Donald, pointing to a box that was on the table.

Mickey, Donald, and Goofy moved closer to the box. "Who are you?" they asked.

"It is I, the Golden Harp," said a soft voice. "A giant kidnapped me and brought me here to his castle to sing for him."

The farmers were very frightened to hear that the castle belonged to a giant. They were so frightened that they almost ran away.

"Wait!" cried Mickey suddenly. "We can't leave without the Golden Harp."

"You're right," said Goofy bravely. "We have to rescue her and save Happy Valley!"

Just then they heard loud footsteps. Everything in the room was shaking as the footsteps came closer and closer.

"You must hide!" cried the Golden Harp.

Mickey, Donald, and Goofy ran as quickly as they could to hide from the evil giant.

The giant stomped over to the table and picked up a giant sandwich in his giant hand. He was just about to take a bite when he noticed that the sandwich was moving.

"There's a mouse in my sandwich!" roared the giant.

"Oh, I'm sorry," said Mickey. "I had no idea this was your sandwich." He jumped from the sandwich to the giant's shirt and then slid down the giant's leg.

"Run!" shouted Mickey to Donald and Goofy.

The giant was furious. He chased the three farmers around the room until they were cornered. The giant reached down to scoop them up in his hand—but he missed Mickey!

The great big giant put the tiny little farmers into the box with the Golden Harp. He locked the box and slipped the key into his great big pocket. Then he sat down in a chair to take a nap.

Mickey waited in his hiding place behind the pitcher. When the giant finally fell asleep, Mickey tiptoed over to the box and knocked.

"The key," whispered the Golden Harp. "Get the key out of his pocket."

Mickey hurried over to the sleeping giant. Very slowly and carefully he pulled the key out of the giant's pocket.

The giant mumbled something and stirred, but he did not wake up.

Mickey tiptoed back to the box and unlocked it. Goofy and Donald climbed out and then quickly lifted out the Golden Harp. The four were very quiet as they made their way to the front door.

Just as they were sneaking past the giant, he opened one eye and let out a giant roar.

Goofy and Donald ran with the Golden Harp in their arms. Mickey realized the giant would catch them unless he could do something to distract him.

"You can't catch me!" Mickey taunted. The angry giant ran toward Mickey, who dived under a rug. "Over here!" Mickey said, but the giant was not fast enough to catch Mickey.

Mickey ran toward an open window. "So long!" he shouted as he jumped outside.

Mickey ran to the beanstalk with the giant following close behind. He jumped on the beanstalk and slid down in a flash.

Donald and Goofy grabbed a saw and cut down the beanstalk in the nick of time. The giant fell and crashed through the ground, all the way to the center of the earth.

The farmers took the Golden Harp back to her castle to sing, and from that time on, Happy Valley was happy once again. And happiest of all were the three brave farmers—Mickey, Donald, and Goofy!

How many of these LITTLE GOLDEN BOOKS® have you read?

Alice in Wonderland
Meets the White Rabbit†
Animal Quiz Book
Baby Animals
Baby Dear
Bambi†
Big Bird's Day on the Farm*
Big Bird's Red Book*
Bugs Bunny Marooned*
Cars
Cats
A Child's Garden of Verses
Cinderella † Cookie Monster and the Cookie Tree*
Count All the Way to Sesame Street*
David and Goliath
A Day on the Farm
Dinosaurs
Dogs
Donald Duck and the One Bear†
Donald Duck
Instant Millionaire†
Dumbo†
Favorite Nursery Tales†
Four Little Kittens
Frosty the Snow Man

Good Night, Little Bear
Grandma and Grandpa Smith
Grover's Own Alphabet*
Hansel and Gretel
Heidi
Home for a Bunny
I Think That It Is Wonderful*
Jack and the Beanstalk
Just for Fun
Lady and the Tramp†
Let's Go, Trucks!
The Little Golden Book
of Jokes and Riddles
Little Golden Picture
Dictionary
Little Pussycat
The Little Red Caboose
Little Red Riding Hood
Mickey Mouse's Picnic†
Mother Goose
The Monster at the End of This Book*
My First Book of the Planets
My First Counting Book
My Home
My Little Golden Book
About God
My Little Golden Word Book
The Night Before Christmas

Noah's Ark
Old MacDonald Had a Farm
Oscar's Book*
Peter Pan and Wendy†
Peter Rabbit
Pinocchio†
The Poky Little Puppy
Prayers for Children
Puppy Love*
Rudolph the Red-Nosed
Reindeer
The Saggy Baggy Elephant
Scuffy the Tugboat
Sleeping Beauty†
The Sleepy Book
Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs†
The Store-Bought Doll
Tawny Scrawny Lion
Theodore Mouse Goes to Sea
Things I Like
The Three Bears
Three Little Pigs†
Tootle
We Like Kindergarten
Where Did the Baby Go?
Winnie-the-Pooh and the Honey Tree†
Words

Only GOLDEN® brings you all these wonderful stories—and more!
Ask to see the newest GOLDEN® storybooks and activity books.

GOLDEN BOOKS • NEW YORK
Western Publishing Company, Inc., Racine, Wisconsin 53404

*Sesame Street books © Children's Television Workshop. Muppet characters © Muppets, Inc.

†Walt Disney books © The Walt Disney Company.

*Warner Bros. books © Warner Bros. Inc.

®TM & © Western Publishing Company, Inc.

WALT DISNEY'S
MICKEY
and the Beanstalk

Adapted by
Dina Anastasio
Illustrated by
Sharon Ross

A GOLDEN BOOK • NEW YORK
Western Publishing Company, Inc., Racine, Wisconsin 53404

© 1988 The Walt Disney Company. All rights reserved. Printed in the U.S.A. No part of this book may be reproduced or copied in any form without written permission from the copyright owner. GOLDEN®, GOLDEN & DESIGN®, A GOLDEN BOOK®, and A LITTLE GOLDEN BOOK® are trademarks of Western Publishing Company, Inc. Library of Congress Catalog Card Number: 87-82733 ISBN: 0-307-01037-6
A B C D E F G H I J K L M